

CYCLONE DOES BIG DAMAGE AT KIRKSVILLE AND SILVER CREEK

Several People Badly Hurt and Thousands of Dollars in Losses, Is Work of Cyclone Thursday Night

Many thousands of dollars in property damage was done and several people were injured when a puff of the cyclone which swept over Central Kentucky Thursday night about seven o'clock, took a swipe at the Kirksville and Silver Creek sections in the southwest portion of Madison county.

Several homes were reduced almost to kindling wood. A tenant house on the farm of Willis Henderson, near Silver Creek, was blown completely away, and the three little sons of Bob Burton, his colored tenant, were badly injured, one of them sustaining a broken leg.

The roof of the bottling house of the Warwick distillery at Silver Creek, was blown off. No damage was done to the several hundred barrels of whisky remaining in the bonded warehouse. The distillery warehouse is owned by Bernheim Bros., of Louisville.

The home of Carl Roop, a farmer, near Kirksville, was demolished.

Damage done at the home of John Cox, a half mile from Kirksville, was very severe. His pretty new house was unroofed, furniture demolished, and during the progress of the storm the children were blown about from room to room. The parlor rug was found Friday morning a mile or so away in a pasture at the farm of Phil Arbuckle, torn to rags. Mr. Cox's large tobacco barn was blown down, his garage demolished and several large trees felled by the severity of the wind.

The cyclone seemed to have dipped into Madison county in the Silver Creek and Kirksville sections. It swept over a pathway about five or six miles in extent. Other communities report heavy winds but so far as can be learned there was little real damage elsewhere in this section. Richmond had a heavy wind storm, with great sheets of rain and fearful lightning but no damage is reported here. The telephone line to Berea is out of commission, and no report can be secured from that section as to damage in southern Madison.

The night train to Stanford was delayed almost three hours by three and debris blown across the track between here and Lancaster.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mooney, a chimney was blown down. An avalanche of brick fell in the house. Mrs. Mooney was ill at the time. Dr. H. C. Pope was in attendance and the brick struck him, causing painful injuries and breaking several ribs.

W. O. Burke, prominent young farmer of Silver Creek, and partner of T. E. Baldwin, Jr., said that he saw the cyclone as it passed by with a noise "like a big truck."

Mr. Burke was in town Friday morning and told of it. "We heard the wind and went out the door," he said. "Then a short distance away I saw the black cloud. It was like a funnel, and made a noise like a big truck. It passed over, apparently from the Kirksville section, on by Silver Creek toward the right. We did not know at that time of the great damage it had wrought. Tom Baldwin's shed and ice house were blown over and a couple of chimneys off E. L. Davis' house. The roof on the bottling plant of the Warwick distillery warehouse was folded over right on the other part of the roof, as if picked up rafter and all and neatly folded over."

Mr. Burke said that he saw the house of John Cox Friday morning and it was a complete wreck. He said there was no rain or hail at Silver Creek, but the wind was awful.

The barn on Bird Roop's place was demolished. A horse in it was killed, but a mule nearby was uninjured.

Mr. Burke said that he could not say what damage had been done further to the southeast, as the tornado seemed to go that way. Sam Smith's yard received a slight touch of the wind, a number of chicken houses being demolished and a few trees uprooted.

No Loss of Life In Scott

(By Associated Press)
Georgetown, Ky., March 25—Reports from representative points along the Scott and Franklin county border today indicate no loss of human life in the storm which yesterday afternoon swept through that section. Several head of livestock were killed. The heaviest losses were from barns and fencing with damage to a number of residences. The twister dipped first near Switzer, Franklin county, and traveled toward Stamping Ground where it lifted.

Much Damage In Scott County

Lexington, March 25—Five barns were badly wrecked and a serious loss in cattle is known to have resulted from a severe windstorm which struck in Scott county, between Stamping Ground and Georgetown between 5 and 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon. All wires were down Thursday night, shutting off communication overhead, and felled trees virtually blocking traffic in the damaged area.

The worst damage reported was on the farm of Thomas Cook, who lost two large tobacco barns. Mr. Cook's house was severely damaged and half dozen head of cattle were destroyed. David Robertson lost a tobacco barn and two horses. A. S. Green reported the loss of a barn and his house was badly damaged. Telephone posts were thrown across the road and fences were torn down along the strip visited by the storm.

Police followed up each report but failed to find the fugitive. O'Conner yesterday shot his way through the police at Liberty, after killing Detective Patrick O'Neil.

BANKS FINANCING PURE BRED POULTRY

County Agent Spence Meets Co-operation in Getting Better Stock With Farmers

R. F. Spence, agricultural agent for the southern part of Madison and Rockcastle counties, was over at Waco the other day interesting the bank there in the proposition which is being adopted so many places—or sponsoring boys' and girls' purebred poultry clubs. In this case it is planned to furnish settings of eggs of the Rhode Island Reds to boys and girls, and older folks, too, at cost price of $1 per setting. At other points where the purebred poultry movement has been undertaken by the banks, notes of the purchasers are taken for each $1 setting, with payment due next November, without interest. In this way the chickens can be raised, the roosters sold and the pullets ready to lay before even the eggs must be paid for. Mr. Spence hopes to interest a number of the country banks throughout Madison county in this forward and progressive move to build up pure bred poultry.

Three banks have already undertaken the work in an enthusiastic way under Mr. Spence's supervision. They are the First State Bank at Livingston, the People's Bank at Mt. Vernon and the Citizens' Bank at Brodhead. Mr. Spence estimates that these three banks will put out 2,000 pure Rhode Island Red eggs in Rockcastle this season. If Cashier A. M. Hiatt, of the Brodhead bank, has his way, he hopes to set 5,000 eggs in his territory. Mr. Hiatt is a very progressive young financier and believes in doing everything possible to build up his community and county. He knows that when the farmers succeed that his bank will prosper and the benefit of purebred stock, both in poultry and livestock as well, he is co-operating in every way possible with his people. In addition to his offer to finance purebred poultry, he has an offer to his people to furnish the cost price for a purebred bull, buck or bar to any farmer who wants one, taking his note for 12 months without interest. Mr. Hiatt traveled all over the western section of Rockcastle county, in which Brodhead is the chief trading center, with Mr. Spence and they accomplished much good work among the farmers in the interest of better livestock and better poultry.

Mr. Spence says that he received a most cordial reception at Waco, and he is very hopeful that the purebred poultry movement will be taken up there and all over Madison county as well.

Blanton Adjudged Incurable

(Thursday's Louisville Times)
Lindsey R. Blanton, accused of setting fire to a garage and stable at the Beechurst Sanitarium Friday night, owned by Dr. H. B. Scott, was adjudged of unsound mind in criminal court today and remanded to the Eastern Kentucky Hospital at Lexington. Blanton, former assistant fire chief of Richmond, is 31 years old and served with the American army during the war. His insanity, it is said, is incurable. State Fire Marshal Cannetz questioned witnesses in an effort to learn if Blanton was responsible for other fires in the city.

Why Space Is Given
Billy Sunday paid another tribute to the newspapers in his sermon at Cincinnati Wednesday. "The newspapers are giving columns and columns of space to this revival," he declared. "They are giving space that would cost $50,000 to $100,000 if it had to be paid for as advertising. Why? In order that they may carry the message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to you."

TWO DOGS KILL 19 SHEEP FOR MOBERLY

A couple of collie dogs played havoc with Richard O. Moberly's flock of sheep at his farm at Union City, Wednesday night. Mr. Moberly heard the animals chasing his sheep about midnight, as the field they were in is close to the house. He went out with a gun and killed one of the dogs, and the other ran off. Five ewes and 14 lambs were killed by the brutes, and a number of others badly maimed and mangled. Mr. Moberly had 25 ewes and 21 lambs in this field at the time, and he thinks that nearly all would have been lost had he not heard their bleating and gone to the rescue.

$35,000 LAND SUIT FILED IN GARRARD

Attorneys George E. Stone and Jay W. Harlan, of Danville, have filed suit in the Garrard Circuit Court at Lancaster, for Bradshaw Bros., of Danville, against John Pendleton and James I. Hamilton, seeking specific performance of a contract for the purchase of a 128-acre farm near McCreary, Garrard county, says the Danville Messenger. Mr. Pendleton is seeking a rescission of the contract on the grounds that he thought he signed it as surety for Mr. Hamilton, it is said, and Bradshaw Bros. are asking that they be compelled to take the farm and carry out the contract as agreed. The amount involved is about $35,000.

WEATHER FOR EASTER VERY PROBLEMATICAL

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, March 25—Almost any kind of weather from temperature as low as 27 degrees above zero to as high as 87.3 above may come on Easter Sunday. Records of the weather bureau here for the last twenty years indicate that March 27 is a very uncertain sort of day in Kentucky. In 1910, the maximum temperature of 87.3 degrees was recorded. In 1913 it was 27 and two years later 29 degrees above zero. Back some 30 years ago the lowest temperature registered for the date was 14 degrees above zero. Last year it was 49 and the year before 36.

In 11 of the past 20 years, from a trace to .09 inch of rain has fallen on March 27, the date that this year is Easter Sunday. On three occasions traces of snow were recorded.

March's reputation as a windy month is too well established to need further evidence of its speed according to weather officials, but just as a reminder they point out that the mean average for the past five years ranges from 12.9 miles an hour in 1918 and 1919 to 7.5 miles in 1917.

With these figures before him, the weather man today announced that almost any kind and quantity of weather may be present on Easter Sunday this year.

LANSING TELLS OF PEACE CONFERENCE

Couldn't Agree With Wilson's Plans and is Particularly Severe in His Criticism

(By Associated Press)
Boston, March 25—Robert Lansing, former Secretary of State, and member of the American Peace Commission, will reveal in his forthcoming book on "The Peace Negotiations," which will be published by Houghton, Mifflin Company, March 25, how close he came to resigning from the Commission because of differences with President Wilson over the Shantung decision and his belief that many of the terms of peace imposed on Germany were harsh, humiliating and seemingly impossible of performance.

The publishers of this book, which is eagerly awaited by historians and the public, have carefully guarded the text of a manuscript but they have permitted the general trend of Mr. Lansing's argument to become known.

A profound conviction that immediate peace was the primary need of the world, Mr. Lansing implies, was all that kept him from resigning from the Peace Commission because of fundamental disagreements with the President on principles.

Some of the high spots of Mr. Lansing's book are shown in the following textual extracts:

"I cannot but feel that my open opposition to his attending the conference was considered by the president as an unwarranted meddling with his personal affairs and was none of my business."

"He (Mr. Wilson) said with great candor and emphasis that he did not intend to have lawyers drafting the treaty of peace. He (the President's) sweeping disapproval of members of the legal profession participating in the treaty-making seemed to be, and I believe was, intended to be, notice to me that my counsel was unwelcome."

"One may infer that the President was disposed to employ the general longing for peace as a means of exerting pressure on the delegates in Paris and inducing their governments to accept his plan for a league."

"The President having in the report (on the League of Nations) declared the American policy, his commissioned representatives were bound to acquiesce in his decision, whatever their personal views were. Acquiescence or resignation was the choice."

"I think that it is not unjust to say that President Wilson was stronger in his hatreds than in his friendships. He seemed to lack the ability to forgive one who had in any way offended him or opposed him."

"The time given to the formulation of the Covenant of the League of Nations and the determination that it should have first been placed in the negotiations caused such a delay in the proceedings, and prevented a speedy restoration of peace. Denial of this is useless. It is too manifest to require proof or argument to support it."

"It is fair to assume that he had no program prepared and was unwilling to have any one else make a tentative one for his consideration. It left the American Commission without a chart marking out the course which they were to pursue in the negotiations and apparently without a pilot who knew the channel."

"He was not disposed to discuss matters with the American Commission as a whole or even announce to them his decisions unless something arose which compelled him to do so. He easily fell into the practice of seeing men separately and of keeping secret the knowledge acquired as well as the effect of this knowledge on his views and purposes."

"But for secrecy, I firmly believe that there would have been no Fiume affair."

"If to the increasing secretiveness of the proceedings of the controlling bodies of the Peace Conference are added the intrigues and personal bargains which were constantly going on, the log-rolling—to use a term familiar to American politics—which was practiced, the record is one which invites no praise and will find many who condemn it."

"Secrecy and intrigues which were only possible through secrecy stained nearly all the negotiations at Paris, but in the final act of withholding knowledge of the actual text of the treaty from the delegates of most of the nations represented in the conference the spirit of secretiveness seemed to have gone mad."

"After an hour's conversation Viscount Chinda made it very clear that Japan intended to insist on her 'pound of flesh.'"

HERE'S THE PRIZE; DEBS VISITS CAPITAL

Prisoner From Federal Penitentiary Invited by Daugherty to Capital to State His Case

(By Associated Press)

Atlanta, Ga., March 25—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, reached here at noon today on his way back to his cell in the federal penitentiary after a visit to Attorney General Daugherty at Washington. He would not discuss the trip.

Washington, March 25.—Eugene V. Debs, former Socialist candidate for president, Thursday enjoyed a few hours of freedom here from his ten-year sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta.

Undisguised and unaccompanied by guards, his arrival here to confer personally with Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general, in regard to a pardon from his conviction of violation of the pre-war espionage law, was not made public until after his departure on Thursday afternoon on the return trip to Atlanta.

The Socialist leader's summons to Washington was announced by Attorney General Daugherty at a conference with newspaper correspondents Thursday afternoon. As calmly as he had spoken of a visit by former President William H. Taft, who was present for the conference with the newspaper men, Mr. Daugherty said:

"I had another visitor today in Eugene V. Debs. He came at my invitation, and with the approval of President Harding, to discuss his case and the applications that have been made for his pardon."

So astonished were the newspaper men present that for a minute not a question was asked and then the storm broke. But with all the questions piled by the two-score or more correspondents at the conference the effect of the shock was still apparent and no one thought to ask regarding the Socialist's manner of escaping notice until long after the attorney general had concluded the conference.

Stating that Debs had left for Atlanta on the 4:35 train, the attorney general added: "I have asked him to refrain from saying anything for publication or otherwise regarding the subject of the inquiries made. I am sure no well-meaning person will urge him to discuss this matter or anything that took place on his journey or during his stay here."

"Debs presented his own case to the trial court and jury. He was permitted to do so here."

"What took place and the information I have acquired will be reported in due only to the president, and that in connection with any recommendations that may be made when the investigation is concluded."

COATES A JUDGE IN CENTRE-T. U. DEBATE

In the annual intercollegiate triangular debate at Danville Tuesday the representatives of the Georgetown College won the debate. Transylvania debaters defeated Centre College by a unanimous vote of the judges. The subject under discussion was, "Resolved, That Ireland Should Have Complete Independence." Centre College took the affirmative side of the question and Transylvania the negative.

The judges were Prof. T. J. Coates, president of the Eastern State Normal School; Prof. C. T. Hill, of Georgetown College, and Judges Charles A. Hardin, Harrodsburg; Messrs. J. Y. Brown and W. L. Case, who represented Centre at Georgetown last and Georgia defeated Transylvania, so Georgetown is the victor in the 1921 debate.

Creoline Will Control

"Gaps" in Baby Chicks

Burning the dead chicks and all worms removed from them, keeping chicks confined until the dew is off the grass and adding three drops of creoline to each pint of water which the youngsters drink, are the three recommendations made by the poultry department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture for the control of "gaps," the most common of chick ailments.

Chicks which are affected with gaps show the trouble by sneezing, gaping and shaking their heads. They soon become weak, droop their wings and lag behind. This trouble is caused by a little worm that fastens itself to the windpipe of the chick and feeds on the blood. The female lays a large number of eggs which are expelled when she dies and under normal conditions hatch in from two to four weeks. For this reason healthy chicks should never be allowed on infected ground.

The newly hatched "gap" worm crawls up on the grass blades when the latter is covered with dew, the chicks becoming infected when they pick these blades of grass. If the chicks are not allowed out until the dew is off the grass the chances of infection will be decreased since the worms can not live where there is no moisture.

The addition of three drops of creoline to the drinking water will kill the worms attached to the month. Those down in the windpipe can only be killed by removing with a horse hair or stripped blue grass stem.

All Mothers Will Find Use For This Laxative

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a constipated child and note its quick recovery.

IN a growing family the subject of thought with the parents is how to keep the children healthy and happy, and what to do when they become ill. Most illnesses of childhood are the symptoms of constipation, such as headaches, coated tongues, flatulence, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, biliousness, etc.

You can surely feel safe in doing what tens of thousands of others do with good results, so give, according to the age of the child, a small quantity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought last year at drug stores. It is America's favorite family remedy for constipation, indigestion and similar ills, and is especially suitable for children, women and old folks as it is so mild and gentle in action.

There is no secret about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. Druggists have sold it for thirty years, and a sixty cent bottle will last for months. Experienced mothers are never without it in the house.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monicello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

at Danville in May will be asked to pass a resolution authorizing payment of railroad fare of each officer, governor and chairman to one meeting of the board of directors each year out of the funds of the state organization, it is announced here. The plan is designed to make possible women serving as officials who in the past have not been able to do so because of inability to pay their own expenses to and from the meetings.

One member of the board of governors, it is said, must pay $30 each time she attends a meeting for railroad fare alone. Raising the per capita tax from ten cents a member to twenty-five cents has placed enough funds in the treasury to warrant the appropriation, it is said.

Mr. O. A. Brock and daughter, Marjory, have returned from a visit to Mr. C. F. Brock and family in Winchester.

You and Robinson Crusoe

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe.

He knew what he wanted—a ship—and he put up an advertisement for one.

He hung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island; that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small, there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time.

In the end he got what he wanted, was happy, and his name and fame have come down through the ages!

Suppose Robinson Crusoe had taken down his signal after a year and declared: "Advertising doesn't pay?" Where would his story be now?

Or suppose something had whispered in his ear: "No use, Robinson—these are pretty hard times. Nobody is buying or sailing any ships while money's so tight. Better cut out your advertising until times get good again."

Do you need help in planning your advertising? Would you welcome assistance in the preparation of your advertising copy? Do you need the services of a trained copy writer?

The Daily Register offers you its service department which will do any one or all of these things.

Easter Brings Its Brides

THIS year's Easter brides find themselves privileged to choose the simplest and most conventional of wedding gowns, or to take note of and reflect current features of the styles, cleverly manipulated, in their wedding dresses. To be simple and conventional is sure to place a wedding gown above criticism and is a safe and sane choice on the part of the bride. But daring youth often aspires to being original and modistes are more than ready to indulge them in gowns that are interesting from this point of view—and beautiful because it is their business to make them so. The conventional gown is the long-sleeved and (more or less) high-necked model which generations have approved, made of silk fabrics—including satin or velvet as well as the sheer materials—and worn with a veil of net or lace, or of net bordered with lace.

Happy the bride that inherits a wedding veil of lovely lace! She may select either the simplest or the most elaborate of gowns to be veiled by her precious possession. The pretty maid pictured at the left, has chosen to feature a magnificent veil over a wedding gown of heavy crepe-de-chine, simple and straight in lines. It is long sleeved and square necked. One edge of the veil forms a frill that is wired to keep it upstanding across the back of the head, where it is attached to a band that slips under the hair at the sides and is decorated with orange flower buds across the front. She has chosen the regulation bridal bouquet.

The youthful bride at the right has a draped gown of white satin with plaited tulle of chiffon and a band of plaited chiffon heading the bodice. There are long, close-fitting sleeves of chiffon that partly cover the hands but so transparent that the arms seem uncovered. She indulges in a very long train and a voluminous veil flowing from a quaint bonnet with a cluster of orange blossoms posed at each side. Wreaths of the blossoms form a charming detail of the trim and a little cluster of them on the bodice finishes off a very interesting costume. Having been a little independent in the choice of her gown the bride reveals her serious-mindedness by carrying a prayer book.

Permission Given For Wine From Strawberries
Washington, March 25.—A permit to manufacture wine out of strawberries for nonbeverage purposes has been issued to the Strawberry Growers' Association of Louisiana by the bureau of internal revenue. Provision is made in the permit that no sugar shall be added to increase the alcoholic content of the product. While no explanation of the issuance of the permit was made by the bureau, officials said that the strawberry growers had appealed to the prohibition authorities for permission to set up a winery in order to care for their surplus crop, which was estimated to be worth about $5,000,000. Under the Volstead act, it was explained, it is legal to establish wineries for the manufacture of nonbeverage products for sacramental and medicinal purposes. Such procedure, officials intimated, would not be confined to strawberry producers, but would include producers of other juicy berries—and might in the case of and the different shades of raspberries—and might in the case of necessity cover vegetables, such as beets and possibly dandelions and elderberries.

YOUNG ACTORS ALL SCORE DECIDED HIT

Presentations by Little Theatre Club Prove Enjoyable and Discover Histrionic Talent

The productions of the Little Theatre Club of the Normal School were presented to the largest audiences that have attended a similar evening's entertainment in the chapel for a number of years Monday evening and again Tuesday evening, but to a smaller house. There is no doubt but the members of each cast of the three one-act plays—Miss Civilization, Overtones and Neighbors—scored a decided hit both evenings in the reading of these very interesting and dramatic plays of the widely known authors, Richard Harding Davis, Alice C. Costeberg and Zona Gale. The lines in each of these productions were not only clean and interesting but afforded the players an excellent opportunity for the demonstration of the ability of the casts.

Each body of players was under the direct supervision of Miss Miller, of the expression department at the Normal School, and to her energy and ability is due much of the success of the evenings, although the actual histrionic success depended entirely upon the separate casts.

The work of the evening which was met with such undeniable approval by the audience will long be remembered by the members of the organization, still in its infancy. To the ability and charm of these young women and men will go the first laurels of successful attainment, setting a high standard for the succeeding members as they become affiliated with the players of the Little Theatre Club.

It is, indeed, difficult to do complete justice to each of the players, but it would be an unpardonable error to fail to record the fact that Miss Sallie Gentry, as Miss Abel and Henry Arnold as Peter, in Neighbors, impersonated their characters and delivered their lines in such a manner that the house continued to give them such an ovation as is rarely accorded professionals. These two young people demonstrated their possession of an abundance of talent which no doubt will prove its worth to them in future years. Playing in the same cast with them were Margaret Chenault, as Inez, the object of Peter's love and the young lady who possessed such an influence over her lover that the mere sight of her would throw him into "fits of embarrassment" to the extent of being almost impossible for him to make love to her; Nellie Parrott, as Grandma, Sylvia Kidwell, as Miss Trot, Emice Jones, as Miss Moran, Allie Dean Ray, as Miss Ellsworth, and Raymond Robinson, as Ezra Williams.

To many in the audience, Overtones proved more entertaining than did either of the two other two plays because of the supreme ability of the players, Miss Miller as Harrett and Pauline Yates as her undertone, Hetty Kathryn Baker, as Margaret, and Hazel Fincel as Maggie. There is no doubt but the opportunity given these players by this masterly production was used in a superb manner. It was a perfect satire on the shams of society, laying bare its blemishes and rottenness to the core. Miss Yates carried her audience with her from the first line to the close. Miss Baker with her charm and beauty proved all that a young society woman might be in such a situation. Miss Fincel, the undertone of Miss Baker, intensified the situation, making it all the more interesting with her lines. The dramatic ability which was shown by Miss Miller as Harrett in the delineation of this character made her rendering of these lines a complete success.

Ollie Tye Williams as the beautiful and attractive Alice Gardner, center of interest and approval in her act and rendered her part with the ease of a young girl of the character, in a most creditable manner. The robbers, Leslie Evans, G. D. Dameron and Herbert Shell, succeeded in creating a well-planned situation which held the interest of the audience until relieved by the entrance of the "arm of the law" in the part of William Crutcher, James Carr, Shelby Carr, and Winton Roland.

KNOWS WHERE TO GO NOW FOR HELP

Another Nashville Woman Benefited by Tanlac Three Years Ago

"Tanlac relieved me of my troubles and put me in splendid condition three years ago and I know just where to go when I need something to build me up," said Mrs. Louis E. Sneed, 1218 Fifth avenue, North, Nashville, Tenn., while purchasing a bottle of Tanlac the other day.

"I suffered for years from stomach trouble and about three years ago I got into an awful condition. I couldn't eat a thing but what caused me to suffer agonies, my nerves were all upset. I couldn't sleep and I suffered a great deal from rheumatism. I had a dull, heavy, languid feeling all the time, with no strength nor energy, and at times my sufferings were almost unbearable.

"That was my condition when I got Tanlac, and I declare the medicine just made the most wonderful change in me. My stomach stopped bothering me. I began to sleep as sound as a baby, all my aches and pains left me and I was built up in every way until I felt fine all the time, and I'm feeling that way yet. My faith has been pinned to Tanlac ever since that time. I am getting this bottle now to tone me up in the change of seasons when spring comes on."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son; in Berea by the Welch Department Store and at College Hill by Ginter Bros.

Why Colds Are Dangerous

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for more serious diseases. People who contract colds first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ disease, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon! It is pleasant to take.

March Worst Month for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it at night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.
